LAW REPORTS.

Arbitration Court.

Special to the Appeal.] Jackson, Tenn., March 10,-The arbitration court will adjourn here Saturday to meet at Memphis, Tuesday sixteenth instant. Attorneys will please advise clerks at once what causes will be submitted from Shelby, so that transcripts may be brought down.

The United States Courts - Emmons, Judge. 1717, Cotter vs Louisiana insurance company, jury, verdict for plaintiff, thirty-three hundred dollars; 520, Uni-ted States vs Carlton, Page et al, jury, verdict for defendant; 796, United States vs Cheatham et al, dismissed. The following orders in relation to the business of the term were announced from the bench. We propose to take up the business in the following order:

First-Where persons are in jail the government business will have precedence, and all of those cases will be disposed of. Unless there are other criminal cases where there are very pressing reasons why they should not be delayed, the civil docket will be taken up. Second—The civil law cases will then e tried in the order in which they are handed to the clerk within the next two days as ready for trial by either party. Of these causes the clerk will make a special docket. It is not ordered, but strongly recommended, that adversary counsel be notified that such causes are set for trial or hearing.

Third—The equity cases will then be taken up in the order in which they are handed to the clerk, within the next two days, as ready for trial by either party. Of these causes the clerk will also make a special docket. Motions for continuance must be submitted at once when the case is placed upon the special docket. Unless extraordinary reasons exist for delay, such motions will not be entertained, when causes are called for trial at law or hearing in equity. It is indispensible that the court ascertain at an early date what business is ready, that the probable duration of the sitting of the session may be ascertained in reference to business elsewhere. All business placed upon all special dockets will be finished if it can be accomplished within the next month The court, however, must be continuously employed, as it is impossible to wait for the preparation of business. SUPPOSED CHILD MURDER.

A Physician and Nurse Arrested as Pas tles with the Mother to the Murder of a New-Born Babe-A Very Sad Case.

Negro Mas Accidentally Binds the Remains, which are Exhumed-Inquest by Coroner Spelman, and the Jury's Verdict.

In yesterday's APPEAL it was stated that a physician of this city had been arrested upon a grave charge, that a scandal had been caused about an infant. Yesterday Dr. Pool, of Mulberry street, and Mrs. Celari, of St. Martin street, were arrested upon a warrant sworn out by Chief Athy, charging them with having delivered a child, having it carried away and buried, and being accessory to its murder. According to the best information upon the subject the following are the facts of this most mysterious of strange cases: Several nights ago a respectable young lady, whose name we omit in this connection, went to Mrs. Celari's residence and there gave birth to a child. Dr. Pool was called in to see the unfortunate young lady, and was present at the birth of the child, which lived only about nine hours. Shortly after its death a negro man with a basket went to Mrs. Celari's residence. and was ordered to take the lifeless in fant away. Concealing the child in the basket, which had evidently been provided for the purpose, the negro man carried it away. Since then nothing has been learned as to the disposition of the body, although the most diligen search has been made by Chief Atny. The negro who carried the child from the house has not been arrested, and as his name is not known, it may be that he will elude the quick scented detectives in their determined efforts to ascertain his whereabouts. From the above state of facts, Mrs. Celari and Dr. Pool were suspected of foul play. The doctor denies that he was present when the negro removed the body, and says he knows nothing about the disposition made of it. The affair is enveloped in mystery, and the statements of Dr. Pool and Mrs. Celari as made before Justice Winters vesterday, were reduced to writing by Captain Simeon Barinds, and are carefully stowed away in the safe of the chief-of-police, as their publication at present might interfere with the plans for the full investigation of the case, and prove contrary to good morals and public polity. Justice Winters yester-day placed Dr. Pool and Mrs. Celari each under five thousand dollars bonds to answer the charges in the case, which has been set for hearing at two o'clock next Saturday afternoon. Despite the circumstances as they now appear, it may be that the child died from natural causes, instead of being poisoned or otherwise foully dealt with, and that it was mysteriously and secretly removed in order to prevent scandal, and to suppress, if possible, the fact of the unfortunate mother's humiliation and disgrace. A well known young man in this city is charged with being the father of the child, but he denies this. The affair has created some interest among those who have heard of it, and the in vestigation before Justice Winters next Saturday may result in a full explanation of the mystery. The young lady is

THE SEQUEL. Yesterday afternoon a negro man saw quantity of fresh earth in a lot between ance and Lauderdale streets, and be ing actuated by curiosity, commenced digging, when, to his dismay, he discovered the body of a new-born babe, rudely wrapped in a cloth. He immediately informed Chief Athy of his discovery, and Officer Pryde was sent after the remains, which were carried to the Adams street stationhouse, where an inquest was held by Deputy-Coroner Spelman last night. According to the testimony of Dr. Frank Rice, the child was about seven months of age, and its birth was premature. According to medical test made by Dr. Rice, the child had never breathed, and while its birth may have been premature, such may have been caused by foul means. There was nothing in the fact of the premature birth to rebut the possibility of an abortion having been produced. Recorder Winters testified that in the examination before him yesterday afternoon two witnesses swore that the child lived nine hours after its birth, and that
